

THE CLICK CLACK BOOM

"Dense, reverb-heavy guitars and powerful lead vocals shaping radio-ready garage pop."
- The College Music Journal (CMJ)

About The Click Clack Boom

The Click Clack Boom is a gang of Appalachian outcasts, foaming at the mouth, from the Middle of Nowhere, Pennsylvania.

In a place where cell phones, and running water are optional, you will find the birthplace of The Click Clack Boom. Despite their humble beginnings, this refreshing sextuplet of small town boys have become a fixture of Manhattan's Lower East Side and the Williamsburg music scene, while packing venues throughout the Northeast.

The Click Clack Boom delivers pocket tight performances, with lush harmonies, blended into an eclectic alternative rock sound.

With music in the air and the wind on their backs, the road has become their home and The Click Clack Boom continues to see their movement grow with each click of the odometer.
